

Mentoring students from Year 6 to Year 12

Empowering students to cultivate a deep appreciation for life, learning, friends, and family.

I utilize enjoyable, exciting, and creative approaches.

I tailor my attention to students who require just a bit of guidance to those who need more substantial assistance.

To Whom It May Concern,

Ian Moore was my son, Christopher Lee's Extra Curricular (Raw Challenge -Boxing) Teacher at Trinity Grammar School, Summer Hill. Chris thoroughly enjoyed his time with Ian Moore because of the enthusiasm and positiveness he always projected when dealing with his students. In particular, Ian Moore still brought his positivity with him when he came to visit Chris in the hospital when Chris had his Acquired Brain Injury in 2012 and continued to enthusiastically make Chris feel very special by inviting him back to his Raw Challenge classes as an ex-student when he came out of hospital -this was very much appreciated.

Because of Christopher's Acquired Brain Injury, he required support in many areas of his life to become independent again. Under NDIS, we approached Ian Moore for some assistance. He used some fun approaches and some unconventional techniques to reintroduce Chris to the community again, by way of various communication methods in making new relationships and by increasing his independence. On the physical side, they concentrated on weight training, jogging, and boxing exercises together.

After 9 months of this, Chris is now moving forward and is working at 2 different jobs. We are very grateful for all that Ian Moore has done for Chris and wish him well. If you are looking for someone who is very capable of imparting enthusiasm and positivity in the way he teaches, then Ian Moore is the person.

Kind regards,

Susan Lee
